UPDATES & UPCOMING

Thank you to the amazing participants who made our inaugural Mind the Gap: Neurological Frameworks for Sustainable Inclusion on January 15, 2020, an astounding success! As this cohort of rockstars continues their work together in monthly collective learning opportunities, we are grateful for their energy and cannot wait to see what they continue to do in their organizations and communities!!

The Nextions Academy marches onward with our D&I Champions Certificate Series: Inclusion Strategy & Programming in Law Firms, a series of carefully curated programming and coaching that will substantially enhance any diversity and inclusion practitioner or leader in law firms today. The programming is comprised of three levels of course curriculum (1.5 days in-person seminar for each level) and monthly group coaching between workshops totaling 40 hours of direct and supplemental training. Attending all 3 in-person course seminars and a significant percentage of the group coaching sessions is required to receive the D&I Champion Certificate from the Nextions Academy. (You can attend individual seminars without committing to the overall series.)

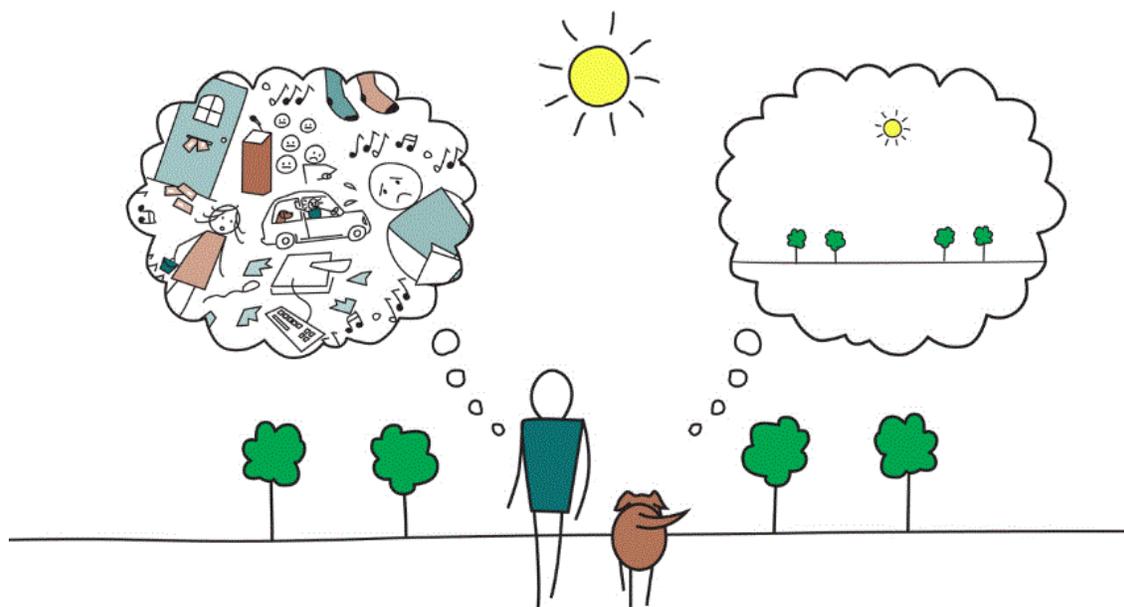

REGISTRATION DEADLINE IS FEBRUARY 27TH!

If you have not yet attended an informational call on the D&I Champions Certificate Series, there is a call coming up on Monday, February 24, 2020, at 11:30 AM CDT. You can call in using the following information:

Mind Full, or Mindful?

We have officially launched our Wellness practice, and more information will be available soon on our website! We are so grateful for all of you who contributed to our research in this area and our identification of how we can best serve your needs. We integrated the connection between mindfulness and inclusion in our Mind the Gap workshop in January, and we are excited to continue to offer more research, applications, ideas, and insights through the Nextions Academy and through our consulting services. Until then..
